

Lighting Up the Audit

John 3:19 (ESV)

And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil.

1 Corinthians 4:5 (ESV)

Therefore do not pronounce judgment before the time, before the Lord comes, who will bring to light the things now hidden in darkness and will disclose the purposes of the heart. Then each one will receive his commendation from God.

The Bible clearly speaks of the great conflict between darkness and light (that is, wrong vs. right). Light always wins over the darkness, even a small amount of light. But have you noticed how we try to cover our ungodly deeds in darkness? How many leaders have promised transparency only to hide in the dark?

Bipartisan groups of people are engaged in auditing the recent Presidential election to see if it was an honest election. Likewise, bipartisan groups are resisting the audit. Why? If the election was honest, won't the audit show it? Or, are we trying to hide some underhanded scheme?

When the one who presumably won the election bragged beforehand that there would be voter fraud, should we not look into it? On October 24, 2020 Candidate Joe Biden announced:

“. . . we have put together what I think is the most extensive and inclusive voter fraud organization in the history of American politics.”

In time we will see whether the elections were honest or not, light WILL prevail over darkness.

It is easy (and right) to talk about the election, the audits and their transparency or lack thereof. There is also a personal application that is harder. What about our personal lives and personal integrity? Are we living by the light of God and His Son, or do we prefer to try to hide in the darkness?

It seems to me that what we are witnessing today is not partisan Republican vs. Democrat (leaders from BOTH parties have resisted and undermined the audits). It is not “Right Wing vs. Left Wing” (BOTH ideologies are complicit in our current national situation). What we are seeing is “Right vs. Wrong,” “Light vs. Darkness” on the national level but it is also true personally, for individuals comprise the nation.

The building of a godly nation is dependent on the choices its individual citizens make. We can choose the light and be open and transparent; or, we can choose the darkness and try to hide truth. It starts with each one of us and then the others around us. When “we the people” prefer the light over the darkness the nation will heal. 1 John 1:7 (ESV):

But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanses us from all sin.
